Remember the Polio

Canvassers Tonight

School Justice

THIS MONDAY night between 7 and 8 o'clock the homes of Hope will be canvassed for the March of Dimes — the annual drive in behalf of infantile paralysis victims.

If your porch light is turned on between 7 and 8 o'clock tonight the canvassers will call on you. Do not forget.

Last year's epidemic — a word that newspapers use carefully — was the second heaviest in American history. Funds of the national association are depleted, and it's up to you to recognize the emergency and give promptly.

Financial drives are so plentiful in a democracy that the people are quickly bored, even irritated — but I speak for everyone when I point to the paralysis campaign as the one great exception. For polio strikes so many children, and lays such a heavy hand on the poor, that human sympathy rises automatically to meet the challenge.

Only the barest fraction of our population — even in this richest of all nations — is financially able to pay the bills for treatment when polio's grim specter comes knocking at the family door. The risk, like insurance against death and destruction, must be divided among all the people — each paying a small share now against the possibility that his door may be rapped on next.

Hempstead county is asked to give a total of $5,000. Less than a fifth of it had been raised up to this week-end. So a lot of lights will have to be turned on tonight if we are to do our duty as good citizens and friendly neighbors.

And if the canvassers miss you tonight, why, there's a man down at the Saenger theater named Eddie Holland who'll take your donation. The Star is going to acknowledge all polio gifts, at least from $1 up.

GEORGE DOUTHIT, a good reporter writing in Sunday's Arkansas Democrat, covers last week's cross-examination by the legislature of Education Commissioner A. B. Bonds and reaches a conclusion with which I find fault.

Douthit reports that while Bonds first claimed 421 schools would have to close unless the state dug up an additional 6 million dollars he admitted under examination that 100 of those schools have enough cash on hand to "get by." Says Douthit:

"Do you see? We're beginning to get down to real facts now. So what happens. The school people start changing their story again."

"Now, although a school has money on hand because of good management, it should get financial help from the legislature just like the school that is broke and would have to close."

"In other words, it wouldn't be fair to let those 100 schools which can make it to the end of the year go 'without help' while helping those schools which would have to close."

Without in any way whatsoever blunting my previous criticism of Commissioner Bonds' slap-happy mismanagement of school finance I want to point out the danger in that phrase "money on hand."

The Hope district — and undoubtedly many others throughout the state — has "cash on hand" in thousands of dollars representing payment of taxes for the coming fiscal year. To say that a district shouldn't get its share of state aid simply because it is in a position to spend tomorrow's tax money today is wrong — actually dishonest, on the part of the state.

If there is going to be any special treatment of individual school districts it ought to be along the line already suggested in the examination of the school crisis last Fall. That is, distributing state aid on a "local incentive" basis — with holding state help until local taxpayers have done their full share in raising property assessments.

But advance collections of local taxes have no bearing whatsoever on any district's "need" when it comes to distributing state money evenly and fairly.

Two Minor Auto Wrecks Reported by City Police

An automobile owned by L. W. Herring of Eblevins was damaged slightly Saturday when it was hit by a pickup truck whose driver failed to stop.

Mrs. Herring was sitting in the parked car on South Main when the pickup hit it, causing minor damage. The driver failed to stop. Mrs. Herring took the license number and turned it over to police who are investigating.

Yesterday morning an auto driven by Donald Bailey collided with another driven by J. D. Webb at N. Main and Avenue "B". Little damage resulted.

Arkansas Gets Coating of Ice and Snow

This section had its share of rough weather also. During last night rain turned to sleet which left an icy sheet over everything. Cold winds kept many indoors and late today sleet again started falling.

The temperature dropped from a high of 58 recorded Sunday to a low of 21 degrees this morning at 7 o'clock, the Experiment Station reported.

By The Associated Press
Hard winter returned to Arkansas Monday and probably will get worse before it gets better.

Virtually the entire state was glazed with ice following freezing rain and sleet overnight, and temperatures are expected to drop to as low as zero Monday night.

The lowest mercury reading reported Monday morning was six degrees at Fayetteville.

In some sections, particularly in east Arkansas, the ice coat was only spotty. However, in others, including Little Rock, traffic was slowed to creep by the hazardous conditions. Many persons were late for work because they were forced to take their driving and walking easy.

More freezing rain was forecast for southeast Arkansas Monday. Continued cold, with Tuesday morning lows of zero to 15 in the north and 10 to 20 in the south, also was predicted for the state.

Following Fayetteville's six in the icebox league were Gilbert, with 10; Newport and Ozark, 12; Fort Smith 13; Morrilton and Dardanelle 15; Batesville and Walnut (Continued on Page Four)

Individuals to Be Asked for Peak Levies

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Some Capitol Hill tax authorities indicated today that President Truman, when he unveils his $16,500,000-plus tax boosting bill next Monday, will call for levies on individuals at the highest rates imposed in World War II.

This might mean an overall increase of 30 per cent or more although the impact would not be that heavy on all individuals. It would add about 5,000,000 lower income persons to the tax rolls, raising the number of individual income taxpayers to about 60,000,000.

One highly placed member of congress, who did not want his name used, said it is a fair guess that the administration recommendations will call for:

1. A reduction in personal exemptions from $600 to $500, and an increase of three percentage points in the rate applied at all levels of taxable income. The 20 per cent rate on the first $2,000 of taxable income would go to 23; the rate for the next $2,000, from 22 to 25, and so on up the scale. Also he said, there may be some steps to offset part of the advantage of split-income reporting by husbands and wives. These measures he said, would add about $7,500,000,000 in revenue if approved.

2. A broad expansion and boosts in the excise list aimed especially at so-called "luxury" items. This member said the administration probably will ask that the liquor tax be increased from $9 a gallon to $12 and that the imports be raised on wine, beer, cigarettes, gasoline and many other items.

3. An increase in corporation income rates probably from the present 47 per cent rate to 55, to bring in close to $3,000,000,000 more. The top normal corporation rate has been raised from 38 to 47 per cent since the Korean war commenced. Its top in World War II was 40 per cent.

4. Broad action in the "loophole plugging" field along with stern efforts to crack down on persons who do not now list all their income in making tax reports, especially from dividends and interest.

Notice to Our Mail Subscribers

Saturday, January 27, was the biggest day for Hope Star mail circulation business since April 4, 1950 — a total of 24 subscriptions, 14 new ones and 11 renewals.

In addition to which the office refused two renewals because of excessive prepayment.

The Star publishes this caution to all mail subscribers: Renewals will continue to be accepted at the present rate per year, but only where the outstanding credit is less than six months binding Star Publishing Co. for a maximum of a year and a half.

That is, today's mail predate edition being dated January 30, 1951, you are eligible to renew for one year if your present subscription expires before July 30, 1951 — which is 7-30-51 on your label.

Two renewal offers that were rejected had present expiration dates in November 1951 and January 1952, and to have written a year's extension on those subscriptions would have committed Star Publishing Co. to nearly two years from now — a gamble which we declined.

Thanks again for a magnificent day last Saturday!

Six Violent Deaths in Arkansas

By The Associated Press
At least seventeen persons died violently in Arkansas last week, and traffic accidents again led in total fatalities.

Six persons were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend. A truck-car collision at Dumas killed W. H. Cooper, 48, of Portland, Ark. Mrs. Bernice Crook, 37, and Carl Harper 51 both of Monticello. Three other persons were injured.

In Camden Henry Harvey, Jr., 25, was killed when his car left the road and struck a tree. Seven-year-old William Skelton died in Piggett from injuries suffered when he was struck by a taxicab. And Curtis Armstrong, nine-year-old Negro of Jacksonville died in a Little Rock hospital of injuries suffered when hit by a car in Jacksonville.

Another seven-year-old boy, Charles Sparks of Salen county, died in a Little Rock hospital of burns. The child was injured in an explosion at his home when he threw a sack of blasting powder into a fire.

U. S. Foreign Legion Is Proposed

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Enrollment of 1,000,000 Western Europeans in the United States army was proposed today by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.).

"This foreign legion should remove all military demands for drafting our 18 year old boys," Johnson told a reporter. "It also would solve some of our domestic manpower shortages and international difficulties."

Johnson said he would "go before the armed services committee at the first chance to outline my proposal." Before unification of the armed services, he once headed the old senate military affairs committee.

Meanwhile, the controversial administration request to draft 18-year-olds and extend present requirements from 21 to 27 months occupied two key congressional committees.

The house armed services committee called on Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna M. Rosenberg and top Pentagon officers for more explanation of the proposed military service and training bill (UMST).

Unidentified Man Succumbs in Hope Hospital

An unidentified elderly man found on the L & A Railway tracks and placed in a local hospital by police, died yesterday.

Officers said he lived in a hobo camp located south of Hope on the railway tracks. During a routine investigation Friday, officers discovered the man was very sick and took him to a local hospital where he died.

There were no identification papers on him. All efforts to identify him have failed. The body is at Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home.

Near Tragedy as Auto Runs Over 3-Year-Old Boy

An automobile driven by Huey Smith ran over the three-year-old son of T. J. Smith at the latter's home late Saturday. Fortunately the youth was not believed seriously injured.

The youngster ran out from the house into the path of the oncoming car which was moving very slowly. The front wheel of the vehicle ran over the child's stomach, officers said.

He was rushed to a local hospital for treatment and later released. City police investigated.

Wage Freeze Won't Apply to Small Business

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Price and wage stabilization officials set to work today on the delicate and tedious job of releasing some of the pressures behind the dam they built last Friday to hold back living costs.

Their task is to remove as quickly as possible the acknowledged inequities which resulted when the government on Friday night froze most prices at peak levels between Dec. 10 and Jan. 25 and all wages as of Jan. 25.

The wage stabilization board proposed a statement expected to announce that large groups of employees are exempt from the wage freeze. These would include 4,000,000 federal, state and municipal workers and also employees of very small firms — all exempt from stabilization during World War II.

There are whole industries exempted from price controls under the defense production act, too. These include newspaper and publishing fields, radio, television and similar communications, utilities, carriers and movie theater stabilization during World War II, those industries will be controlled up to the lawyers already holding their hands.

Besides the statement on exemptions, the wage board headed by Cyrus S. Ching is driving to come out with a formula — probably on Tuesday or Wednesday — for granting blanket approval to increases along the pattern developed last year. In major industries this generally was for a 10 per cent wage hike — sometimes with pensions and similar benefits.

The board may pick a not a percentage, but increases in steel, electrical manufacturing and aluminum industries helped to mold the 10 per cent pattern. It was generally agreed that the formula would allow negotiated increases up to 10 per cent above Jan. 25, 1950 levels.

In other words, if that policy is approved, the board would not interfere with future increases up to that prevailing pattern. It must determine whether to include the pension and other "fringe" benefits in that allowable percentage, however.

The three industry members of the wage board have been arguing that the pattern of increases is only 5.0 percent, and that pensions and such benefits should be counted as wages. This has been vigorously opposed by the labor members, who don't want to include the welfare issues as pay.

Rev. L. T. Lawrence New Presbyterian Pastor Here

Rev. L. T. Lawrence, who recently accepted the call to become pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Hope, will assume his pastoral duties here, Sunday, February 4.

Mr. Lawrence will preach at both the 11 o'clock morning worship service and the evening worship service at 7:30 p.m. next Sunday.

He comes to Hope from the First Presbyterian church at Osceola, Arkansas and has also held pastorates at Cookeville, Tennessee, McMinnville, Tenn., and Lebanon, Tenn.

He received A. B. and L. B. degrees from Ohio State University and attended Lane Seminary and did postgraduate work at Auburn Seminary. Wooster school of Religious education, McCormick Seminary, and the University of Cincinnati. He is the former Moderator of the Synod of Tennessee and at the present time is serving as Chairman of Arkansas Synod's Committee on Assembly's Causes.

Mr. Lawrence will be accompanied to Hope by his wife, Mrs. Lincol B. Lawrence, and three children, Bill, 10, Larry 5, and Elizabeth 1. He has two other sons, Carey of Clarksville, Tenn., and Paul C. with the Air Force at San Antonio, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and their family will live at 302 East Second street.

Totsy Plant Making New Furniture

The Totsy Manufacturing Co., Inc., located at the Proving Ground, is now making four new pieces of children's furniture. Jack Vance, manager, announced today.

They include cribs, rocking chairs, high chairs and a new floor shuffle game. All are on display at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Search Started for Cheese Spread Believed Poisoned

Los Angeles, Jan. 29 — (UP) — One hundred health department workers searched grocery stores today for jars of cheese spread believed to be infected with a deadly bacteria.

Dr. George UHL ordered the hunt for jars of Liederkranz spread after a man's death two weeks ago was blamed on possible botulism poisoning. In the dead man's refrigerator was a jar of spread which contained clostridium botulinum bacteria, cause of such poisoning.

The Borden Cheese company called on housewives and grocers in the Los Angeles area to destroy or return all jars of its Liederkranz spread because a shipment made in December, 1949, to southern California was under suspicion.

The warning applied only to Liederkranz spread sold in jars and not to any other cheese products, especially not to natural Liederkranz sold in foil-wrapped cakes.

Eisenhower to Give Report to Congress

Washington, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower this week gives a congress divided on the troops-to-Europe issue what may be a decisive estimate of the West's ability and willingness to defend itself.

Reporting first to President Truman on his survey of western Europe's military prospects, the five-star general will answer lawmakers' questions at a public session Thursday and then testify later on secret details at closed committee sessions.

Eisenhower is generally expected to report he has reason to believe that, with American help, Europe can and will man its defenses in such a way as to make a Russian attack there less likely. Senator Connally (D-Tex.) promised that the combined senate foreign relations and armed services committees will go to work immediately thereafter on the question of furnishing American divisions to bolster Europe's defenses.

Word that Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) plans an early return to Washington and limited participation in consideration of the issue evidently heightened some of his (Continued on Page Four)

New York — (AP) — "Women," says Edna Williams with complete assurance, "know men better than they know themselves. Any woman knows how to keep a man in his place and how to keep him from making a fool of himself."

Miss Williams, who is 75 and looks 60, was one of America's first traveling saleswomen — in a day when even being a working girl was considered quite daring.

It was back in 1898 when Miss Williams went to work — for a cocoa manufacturing company at $10 a week. The company was undertaking a major experiment — sending nice young ladies around to endorse their products and to demonstrate how easy it was to whip up a pot of the company's product. "They dressed us in the costume of the company's trademark," Miss Williams recalled, "and wherever we went, the company provided us with chaperones."

Occasionally an irrepressible woff would attempt to date up on one of the girls on duty, but that was easy enough to handle," she said. "They seldom recognized us in street clothes later at the hotel."

Occasionally, an especially daring romancer would call on the telephone.

"They'd always say something like, 'didn't we meet in Youngstown?'" Miss Williams related. "And I'd just say I was sorry but I'd never been in Youngstown."

Once a man broke down and said he was just a housewife, she'd say, "I'm a housewife too."

Asia-Arab Bloc to Submit New Plan to UN

Lake Success, Jan. 29 — (AP) — Twelve Arab-Asian nations polished up a refurbished plan today for a "peace conference" with Communist China and prepared to submit it to inspection by United Nations delegates.

The new trimming to the old proposal was the addition of a clause, at Canada's suggestion, to make a Korean cease-fire the first order of business at the proposed conference.

Exact wording of this qualification, studied by India's Sir Benegal N. Rau over the weekend, is expected to be agreed on at a conference of the 12 sponsors scheduled for today. A spokesman said the group then plans to present it to the 60-nation political committee.

The United States has said its opposition to the plan has not been, and will not be, modified. The U. S. view is that a cease-fire is a military matter, not one to be worked out by an international conference.

The U. S. also said that at any conference concerning Korea, the U. N.-recognized republic of Korea should be represented and at any conference on Formosa the Nationalist Chinese government should have a seat. Previous Peking communications on the seven-power talks excluded both.

A spokesman said U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin would continue to press for early adoption of the American resolution of a non-aligning Red Chinese aggression in Korea. There is virtually no opposition to this section of the American resolution outside the Soviet bloc and such Asian countries as India, Indonesia and Burma.

The difficulties have been caused by the subsequent paragraph which ask the collective measures committee to consider punitive action against the Red Chinese and would set up a good offices committee to try for a negotiated settlement with Peking.

Raymond Bright Has Good Year

Raymond Bright, son of Mrs. Mary Bright and a native of Hope, coached the Conway Junior High Vampus Kilties to an undefeated season last year.

His team won 8 straight and was considered one of the best in the state.

The Alumni Bulletin of Arkansas State Teachers College, where Bright graduated in 1949 has this to say:

"Bright is tremendously popular with the Conway boys and a bright coaching future looms ahead of this former Bear letterman. Two of his players won all-state recognition."

State GOP to Hear New Orleans Attorney

Little Rock, Jan. 29 — (AP) — John E. Jackson, New Orleans attorney, will speak at the annual Lincoln day dinner of the Arkansas Republican party here Feb. 12.

Jackson recently was appointed chairman of a special Republican committee to attempt to find ways to develop the party in the south. He has been national Republican committeeman from Louisiana since 1934.

The Republican state committee will meet here the afternoon of Feb. 12.

Band Concert Program Announced

Opening with a rhythm-packed march "Imperial Echoes" and continuing for 80 minutes of the "the best in good band music" is the description given the program planned for the high school band concert, February 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The program was announced today by G. T. Cannon, director.

Included on the first half of the program is the celebrated and beautiful overture "Buildings of Youth" by Captain Charles O'Neill. The haunting melody of the introduction gives way to a powerfully developed fugue which rises to a soul-stirring climax.

"Fantasy on an American Air" is an interesting development of that old tune "Battle Hymn of the Republic," cleverly executed by Herbert W. Fred.

The "Spanish Serenade" by Victor Herbert and theme from the Rachmaninoff Second Concerto round out the first half of the program. Following a short intermission, a group of lighter numbers is offered, topped perhaps in appeal by the overture to "The Desert Song," one of Sigmund Romberg's better-known operettas. New arrangements of the ever-popular "Valse" by Franz Lehár and "Jazz Pizzicato" by Leroy Anderson lead on to the taut "Arkansas Traveler" transcribed by David Gilson.

Another Fantasy, this on "Saint Louis Blues" and the "March Magnificent" of A. W. McCann closes the program. Other lighter numbers are interspersed.

Ticket sales began today and are in the hands of high school band members. Proceeds will go to a band benefit fund and will be used to help defray the cost of band jackets for letter-winners. Admission prices are twenty-five cents for school children and fifty cents for adults.

Lew Worsham Is Winner at Phoenix

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 28 — (AP) — Lew Worsham and his reconditioned team brought a refreshing note to the tournament golf scene today.

The 35-year-old professional from Oakmont, Pa., who won the U. S. Open crown in 1927 and very little since, captured the $10,000 Phoenix open yesterday and led the 148 players on to the next day in the tournament.

Worsham finished the 72-hole stroke with a wobbly 70 and a total score of 278.

It was good enough to beat out veteran Lawson Little, who finished with a 68 for 273, and two other players, Chick Harbert and Jim Ferrier, who tied at 274.

Worsham actually won the fixture in the third round Saturday with a scorching new competitive record of 63, but he had to make it stick in the final 18 hole battle yesterday, and he could have missed a clear title to the $2,000 top money on his final stroke.

Worsham stared at eight feet of space separating the cup and the ball. He had to sink it for the victory. A tremendous gallery waited with the usual awful tension as he lined up the putt.

Then, playing like the Worsham who whipped the great Sam Sneed in a playoff for the National Open championship at the St. Louis Country Club nearly four years ago, he hit the ball firmly and it rolled toward the cup and disappeared inside.

Jimmy Clark, a promising young pro from Laguna Beach, Calif., shot a 68 for 275, one stroke ahead of Duff Harrison and two ahead of Mangrum and Johnny Fulle.

Of the other name pros Cary Middlecott finished at 278, Ed Furber with 279, defending Phoenix Champion Jimmy Demaret at 281, Johnny Palmer and former National Amateur Champion Skeet Rhee at 282.

The Ministerial and Laymen Council of the Prescott district will meet at the BeBe Memorial church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. J. W. Williams, wife of Rev. J. W. Williams, former pastor of Loneoke Baptist church, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Janita Woods.

Benjamin Davis, of Pine Bluff, husband of Mrs. Gladys Davis, librarian of Yerger High school, spent the week-end here.

Yerger High school began its second semester today. There were a few changes in the schedule. It was noted that several of the students fell a little low in their marks. We are asking the co-operation of the parents to see that the students spend a little more time in studying in order that they will be able to meet the requirements for promotion.

The Yerger Tigers and Tigresses participated in the invitational tournament Saturday. The Tigresses were eliminated in the quarter final. The Junior and Senior Tigers were eliminated in the semi-final.

A coating of ice on the Memphis and Arkansas bridges over the Mississippi river closed at least five minor traffic accidents. Arkansas State police reported.

Snow was reported in Fayetteville.

Snow fell while the sun shone at Jonesboro and Paragould Monday morning.

Trees and utility lines were heavily laden with ice in the El Dorado and Magnolia areas of south Arkansas.

The freezing rain Sunday was welcomed by forest rangers. It extinguished all of the state's timberland fires, which death heavy damage last week.

The Arkansas highway department reported most highways in the state had some ice on them but that no roads were closed.

The department said the most hazardous highway was No. 70 between Little Rock and Memphis.

The worst cold wave in years broke records with temperatures of more than 30 degrees below zero today and laid a sheet of ice from Indiana eastward to New England that caused scores of deaths and hundreds of injuries.

The cold had caused 61 deaths since it swept out of the Arctic, a United Press count showed. Forty-three persons died on slippery highways, 14 in fires, three in storm-caused plane crashes, and one man froze to death.

Temperatures plunged to 53 degrees below zero at West Yellowstone, Mont., and broke the all-time record with a low of 46 at Butte.

Throughout the northern plains, and the Midwest, thermometers registered extreme lows. It was -41 at International Falls, Minn., -33 at Duluth, Minn., -36 at Alexandria, Minn., and -37 at Chicago.

Weather Forecaster Julius Radner of Chicago said the cold had swept at the Atlantic coast and that temperatures "are beginning to drop already at New York City."

As it moved eastward the frigid blast touched off a storm of freezing rain, sleet and snow that made highways dangerous over a wide area.

Hundreds of fires were reported as residents tried to stave off the creeping cold.

Most of the northern states had colder weather than some parts of Alaska. It was so cold in Wisconsin that an attempt to form a new political party had to be postponed. A groundhog decided not to wait for Feb. 2. He gave up and died.

Six persons died in Boston when a car bearing a bridal party skidded through a railing on an ice-covered bridge and plunged into the water. Five died in a fire at Fort Payne, Ala.

Leaders of AIC Meet This Week

By The Associated Press

As of today (Monday) the Arkansas Intercollegiate conference basketball has a three-way stretch. But something is bound to pop this week.

At least one of the three leaders is certain to lose one game. That will come when Arkansas Tech with a 9-1 record tangles with Southern State (8-1) at Russellville Tuesday night. The third leader is Arkansas State (3-1).

State put the brakes on Tech's 31 conference game win in a streak Saturday night by blowing down the Wonder Boys 77 to 57, and opening up the race a little more. Also, it gave the Indians an evenbreak for the season with Tech.

In addition to the Southern State tussle, Tech has two other games on the program this week: Ouachita on Friday and Henderson on Saturday — both at Arkadelphia.

Southern plays Hendrix one of the cellar-dwellers at Magnolia on Saturday. State has a pair of games with the one with Arkansas College at Batesville on Friday could be a tough one. Hendrix is State's other foe of the week. They play at Jonesboro on Wednesday.

Arkansas State Teachers, which has been running just behind the leaders, lost a good chance last week when the Bears bowed to Ouachita, for their third conference defeat. The score was 66-63.

All but Arkansas A. & M. engage in conference play this week. Other games:

Monday — Henderson vs Hendrix at Conway; Arkansas Collegiate, Arkansas Teachers at Conway.

Tuesday — LRJC vs Ozarks at Clarksville.

Wednesday — Arkansas Teachers vs Henderson at Arkadelphia.

Friday — Ozarks vs Arkansas Teachers at Conway.

Saturday — LRJC vs Arkansas Collegiate at Batesville.

Scores of other conference games last week: Southern beat Ozarks 74-39 and LRJC, 78-37; Ozarks beat Ouachita 48-22; Henderson beat Arkansas A. & M., 65-61 and made Coach Ross Collins of the Boll Weevils a poor forecaster, and Tech whipped Arkansas College, 66-72.

week on the MUST proposal.

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D. Tex.) of the senate preparedness subcommittee hoped to complete public hearings this week. The group would the begin closed sessions to draft actual legislation.

Johnson also has suggested that congress tighten up deferments under the present draft of 19 through 25 years and consider taking more single and married non-veterans.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson said his "foreign legion" would be open to volunteers from behind the iron curtain. Including East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland as well as West Germany.

Johnson said these European volunteers "would be carefully screened before accepted, be from 18 to 25 years old, and after five years service be eligible to come to this country and seek citizenship."

colleagues who favor sending a reasonable number of American divisions abroad.

Vandenberg, chief congressional exponent of the bipartisan foreign policy, would be looked to to provide a middle ground between those like Senator Taft (R-Ohio) who want strict congressional limitations on the number of American foot soldiers involved and those who think such a limitation is unworkable.

Friends said Vandenberg's health still is such that he may avoid speeches or even appearances on the senate floor. But they expect him to be available for conferences with colleagues and others.

As the situation stands on the eve of Eisenhower's return, his report is expected to be largely influential in what congress does on the issue. Many senators have said they expect his recommendations to be followed closely because of the confidence most lawmakers place in his judgment.

On a far Eastern issue there were indications that the state department was hesitating about asking congress' formal approval of India's request for 2,000,000 tons of American wheat.

Prime Minister Nehru of India made no friends among the lawmakers when he lashed out recently at American far Eastern policies, declaring that the U. S. attempt to brand Red China as an aggressor in the United Nations "cannot lead to peace."

Corpus Christi to Get Huge Aluminum Plant

Houston, Tex., Jan. 28 — (AP) — A multi-million dollar aluminum plant apparently is to be built near Corpus Christi.

The Houston Chronicle quoted J. Louis Reynolds, operations vice president of the Reynolds Metal constructed in San Pairico county on Corpus Christi bay.

The Corpus Christi Call-Times about the same time talked to other officials of the company. These officials said they thought the plant would be built near Corpus Christi but that "certain difficulties" have been worked out.

These officials said they thought the final decision would be announced by J. Louis Reynolds.

The Chronicle quoted Reynolds saying "our estimate is that the project will cost $85,000,000." Other officials estimated the cost at $100,000,000.
